A first impression

There are beautiful houses. Modern houses. Finely restored cottages. And then there are places of the heart, of which words alone can hardly capture the charm. This property, located at the foot of the village of Castagneto Carducci, amid the vineyards of Bolgheri DOC, and only 3km from the beautiful beaches of the Etruscan Coast, has ancient origins. One of the most important mills in the area, it served until the beginning of the last century the inhabitants of the village and the surrounding countryside. Fed by water from spontaneous streams coming from the hills, it was then abandoned and bought in the 1980s by foreigners who carried out the first major renovation and reconstruction. A work that lasted years unearthed the old Mill Hall, with wonderful vaulted ceilings, the endless passion and artistic sense of the owners created a thousand nooks and details to fall in love with even today, wherever the eye rests, there is some gem to be discovered. In recent times, another major renovation made it possible to arrive at the current state, which combines modern comfort with old-world charm to perfection. In all, the Mill now offers 12 double rooms and suites, some of which have independent access, with as many bathrooms as well as two service bathrooms. 2 large fully equipped kitchens allow even a demanding chef to cook well, and the Mill Hall lends itself, either as a dining room, lounge or activity space.
