A first impression

This property on offer here is a HUF HAUS, an impressive post-and-beam structure that impresses with its characteristic timber and glass construction. This modern timber frame construction impresses with its large glass surfaces, which not only provide a bright and friendly atmosphere, but also create a close connection to the surrounding nature.

A spacious hallway leads to the bright first floor of the property. The spacious dining and living area with access to two generous terraces forms the heart of this floor. A wood-burning stove from 2005 provides a cozy warmth on cool evenings and underlines the living comfort. Adjacent is a modern branded fitted kitchen that leaves nothing to be desired. A study or guest room and a shower room complete the first floor.

An open gallery awaits us on the upper floor and invites us to linger. Two spacious rooms offer space for rest and relaxation. Particularly noteworthy are the two balconies, which offer you a variety of opportunities to enjoy the sun or relax outdoors. A stylishly designed bathroom, which perfectly combines functionality and design and is accessible from two sides, completes this floor perfectly.

The spacious full basement is partially heated and offers additional storage space as well as versatile usage options. The house is also technically state of the art. A modern condensing boiler from 2020 ensures efficient heating performance. Electric shutters on the first floor offer additional comfort and security.

The property has a solid garage with an electric door, which offers plenty of space for your vehicle, and there is also a separate parking space. The entrance to the property is secured by an electric gate, which harmoniously rounds off the overall appearance of the property.

The spacious garden with mature trees offers plenty of space for relaxation and leisure activities. Both a well and a rainwater cistern are available for cost-saving irrigation and ensure a sustainable water supply. This HUF HAUS combines stylish architecture with modern technology and high-quality fittings. It offers a unique quality of living in a sought-after location, ideal for people who are looking for something special.
